

The spring meeting of the New England Intergovernmental Audit Forum will be held at the White Mountain Hotel in North Conway, NH on June 16-17, 2005. Thursday's session will continue our series on audits of different programs; this time transportation. As always, these will be of interest not only to those of us who have engagements in this area but also to anyone wishing to learn of techniques used by other auditors in their work. Friday morning's session will be a workshop on preparing and giving testimony. If you've never been involved in this process before, maybe you should learn a little about it before you have to do it for real. If you have testified before, maybe you can learn something new to help you the next time.

Registrations are due by June 6. You can register on-line at this web site and pay the registration fee with a credit card. If you do not choose to register on-line, you can mail a registration form (available for download on this site) with a check or government purchase order for the $100 registration fee and any guest fees to:
